The campaign's Headquarters are in Cape May, but Interns can work from anywhere in the New Jersey area. Hours are flexible. We will accept applicants on a rolling basis.

Applicants can inquire by emailing jzoppina@curtisbashawforsenate.com

Duties and Responsibilities:

- Staff campaign events
- Perform research
- Help train volunteers and build a cohesive team of supporters
- Canvass
- Make phone calls
- Answer Phones
- Perform other duties as assigned

Qualifications:

- Strong time-management skills and work ethic
- Skilled in team-based organizing
- Strong verbal, written, and interpersonal communication skills
- Ability to adapt quickly and accomplish goals as set forth by the campaign
- Results-oriented, dependable, and proactive

Learning Outcomes:

Josh Zoppina, the political director of the Curtis Bashaw for U.S. Senate Campaign, will manage the Internship program. Josh has five years of experience working on political campaigns, four of which were spent in New Jersey.

Interns will work closely with other interns, volunteers, staff, consultants, and candidates.

Interns will:

- Understand and appreciate current political issues and concerns and their impact on the New Jersey and federal political environment.
- Develop the ability to research, analyze, and evaluate political data and information and use information databases.
- Describe basic political and governmental structures, processes, and policies in New Jersey and the United States.
- Develop the ability to grassroots organize by recruiting and training volunteers, canvassing neighborhoods, and attending community-based events.
