Rowan University officially opened its new $4.6 million athletic practice facility on Rowan's West Campus. Situated on 17.5 acres on Route 322 across from the South Jersey Technology Park at Rowan University, the practice facility includes two fields for Prof football, soccer, field hockey and lacrosse athletes.

One of the fields will be dedicated to the football and men’s and women’s soccer teams. The other field is for Rowan field hockey and lacrosse teams. The venue also includes facilities for track and field athletes who compete in the hammer throw, javelin throw, long jump, triple jump and pole vault.

Both fields are made of FieldTurf fiber, a synthetic product. The University’s long-range plan is to locate all of its athletic facilities on the West Campus, a move that would free up space for additional academic buildings on the main campus.

The new practice fields are located on part of 600 acres on the West Campus just 1.5 miles away from Main Campus. The field installation began in December 2014 and included the demolition of two structures.
