HONORS
CONCENTRATION
at Rowan University

COURSE COMPLETION STANDARDS

Honors Concentration

1. Students must pass a minimum of eight (8) Honors courses with a grade of C or higher, ideally including four (4) interdisciplinary courses and/or Honors courses outside one's major.
2. Honors classes are pro-rated so transfer students (internal & external) and those graduating early are not penalized; the total is calculated at a rate of one Honors class per semester with a minimum requirement of four (4).
3. Students must take at least one (1) Honors course the first semester they enter the Honors College.
4. Alternative course experiences (e.g., Internships, Study Abroad, Research/Creative Experience, Senior Privilege) may be counted toward Honors course requirements with prior approval through an application process. A reflection paper is required at the conclusion of the experience.
5. Students who do not continue to progress toward meeting course requirements will be contacted by the Assistant Dean, who will request a plan for course completion. If the plan is either not feasible or no plan is submitted, the student will be removed from the Honors College.
6. Students are required to enroll in Honors sections of Comp I, Comp II, & Public Speaking (Honors FEC I & II as well as SEC I & II [for Engineers]) unless they have placed out of the course, have transferred the credit prior to matriculation, or have received permission from the Honors Advisor or the Assistant Dean to enroll in another section.

Honors Concentration with Distinction

1. Beginning Spring 2021 for entering Freshmen and students with at least 2.5 years in the program, Honors will be offering a new concentration – Honors Concentration with Distinction. Students need to declare their intention to complete the concentration before the spring semester of their junior year.
2. This experience provides students with the opportunity for more breadth across disciplines and depth in their chosen area of study. It culminates in a capstone project to enrich their overall experience.
3. Students must complete a total of 12 honors-designated courses including Honors sections of Comp I, Comp II, & Public Speaking (Honors FEC I & II as well as SEC I & II [for Engineers]), a year-long Honors capstone project with a faculty mentor, and final portfolio reflecting on their Honors experience and all their classes
4. Honors classes are pro-rated so transfer students (internal & external) and those graduating early are not penalized; the total is calculated at a rate of three Honors classes per academic year with a minimum requirement of six (6) with HONR 05301 Honors Capstone Proposal, HONR 05401 Honors Capstone Project, and HONR 05402 Honors Portfolio counting as three of the required courses.

GPA STANDARDS

1. Students must earn a cumulative GPA of at least 3.5 (beginning with the Fall 2020 entering class)
2. Students must maintain a minimum cumulative GPA of 3.3 to remain in good standing with the Honors College, keeping in mind the graduation standards.
 - a. Honors offers first-semester GPA forgiveness. Students with a cumulative GPA lower than 3.0 at the end of their first semester in the Honors College will be placed on probation and receive email notification. Probationary students must meet with the Honors Advisor or the Assistant Dean to come up with an academic success plan.
 - b. Students with a cumulative GPA lower than 3.3 at the end of their second semester will be removed from the Honors College. These students will receive a dismissal email.
 - c. Students who earn a cumulative GPA above a 3.3 but below a 3.5 will receive reminders of the graduation standards. If students cannot achieve either or both GPA requirements by graduation, they should have the Honors Studies Concentration removed before applying to graduate.

 If a student has extenuating circumstances that might explain their unsatisfactory performance, they can appeal to the Assistant Dean, who may bring the matter before the Dean and Honors Faculty Advisory Board.

PARTICIPATION STANDARDS

1. Honors students must participate in three (3) types of co-curricular events/activities from a pre-approved list of offerings each fall and spring semester:
Think: Two (2) academic events/activities
Thrive: Two (2) social, wellness, and leadership events/activities
Share: Four (4) service events/activities
2. Among Think, Thrive, and Share selections for the semester, students must incorporate one (1) diversity, equity, and inclusion event/activity that enhances an individual's understanding of and respect for non-dominant cultures and one (1) arts and culture event/activity that contributes to their comprehension and appreciation of creative and artistic expression.
3. Students must provide an account of participating in these activities at the end of each semester.
4. Students in their first semester in the Honors College will fulfill all Honors participation requirements for that semester through active participation in the BLAST mentoring program
5. For each semester in which they serve on the HSO or BLAST, officers/mentors fulfill all Honors participation requirements.
6. The following students are not required to complete Honors Participation in that given semester: Education majors in their final, full-time clinical practice semester; students who are studying abroad for a full semester, and students in a full-time cooperative education (co-op) experience.
7. Students who do not fulfill Honors Participation requirements will not be considered for funding for research assistantships, study abroad, conferences, or service activities.
8. One (1) semester of an incomplete, loss of, or late Honors Participation submission will result in forfeiture of priority registration for classes. Two (2) semesters without meeting Honors Participation requirements will result in removal from the Honors College.

 If a student has extenuating circumstances that might explain their shortfall of hours, they can appeal to the Assistant Dean, who may bring the matter before the Dean and Honors Faculty Advisory Board.

ETHICAL BEHAVIOR STANDARDS

1. As citizen scholars, Honors students are expected to uphold ethical standards of behavior upon which social and academic communities rely.
2. Academic Integrity and Student Code of Conduct violations serve as a cause for dismissal from the Honors College.
 - a. Academic Integrity
 - i. When violations are Levels I and II, as defined by the University's Academic Integrity Policy, the student may appeal to the Honors Faculty Advisory Board. The final decision will be made by the Assistant Dean and Dean of Honors.
 - ii. When violations are Level III or IV, the student will be immediately dismissed from the Honors College without the right of appeal.
 - b. Student Code of Conduct
 - i. Violations that involve violence or pose a risk to the safety and well-being of others in the University and/or Glassboro community will result in dismissal from the Honors College.
 - ii. Discriminatory acts—including but not limited to those based on race, ethnicity, national origin, gender and gender identity, sexual orientation, religion, and (dis)ability status—will not be tolerated. Students found in violation of bias-motivated offenses per the Student Code of Conduct will be immediately dismissed from the Honors College.
3. Honors students, staff, and faculty may report unethical behavior to any member of Honors staff or administration who will make the appropriate referrals to designated offices that oversee reporting and investigation of such matters.
