

About your two-day Orientation Fee

Orientation fee

The $220 undergraduate orientation fee for any two-day orientation program covers the cost of orientation programming, including: meals (for both students and parents & family members); a Rowan t-shirt & drawstring backpack; publications & materials; mailings; rental of tables, chairs & equipment; the online orientation reservation system; and ongoing programming throughout the academic year to support your transition to college. Students will receive two lunches, one breakfast, and one dinner.

Additional guests

Up to two parents or adult family members are covered by the $220 fee. Meals for additional family members can be added for $25 per person by calling our office at 856-256-4041 in advance. Guests will receive morning refreshments & lunch on both days of orientation.

Payment terms

The orientation fee will be applied to your Rowan student Bursar account: We will post the amount due to your Rowan University Bursar account once you attend orientation. Any available student account credits (applicable funds such as loans, scholarships, grants, etc.) will be applied to the orientation fee. You must make full payment of all student fees through the Bursar's Office. The undergraduate orientation fee must be paid before students can enroll in classes for the next semester after initial enrollment.

The orientation fee is non-refundable

Just as tickets to other major events are non-refundable, the orientation fee is non-refundable. Once it is posted to your Rowan student Bursar account, it will remain on your bill until it is paid in full. If you register for and attend orientation, and then withdraw your admission for the semester you were admitted for, you will still be responsible for paying the orientation fee.
