The Place to Find Important Updates about Rowan PATH

November

As we enter the Thanksgiving season and approach the end of the semester, we hope you are all doing well. Give yourself credit for doing your best. Keep persevering, and finish out the semester strong!

There are a few reminders that we want to share in preparation for finals and the spring semester. Remember if you are going to take your final exams in the Testing Center, speak with your professor then schedule your final exam through AIM.

Registration for spring courses began last month. If you are not registered for the spring, we recommend that you schedule an appointment with your advisor. There is still time to register for spring 25.
