New summer school plan is designed to encourage faculty to get engaged in 3, 4, 5, 6, 8 or maybe even 16 week sessions. Would be managed through CPCE/Provost. Plan allows for split of tuition between the University, department and faculty. See PowerPoint available from Eric or Provost for details.

Grants Salary Policy
(02/01/2008) Grants Salary Policy

DATE: February 1, 2008

The purpose of this policy is to clarify the procedures that should be followed in charging salary costs to government grants in order to comply with federal rules for grant accounting (e.g. OMB-A-21) and with audit requirements.

1. Salary Charges to Grants: When salary is charged to a grant, the full cost of that salary (not replacement costs) must be charged. The salary savings realized by the university by not having to pay that portion of Professor X's salary may be used to offset the costs of instruction or for any other valid university purpose. Example: Professor X has a grant from the National Institutes of Health that provides 10% of her yearly salary ($5,000 per semester) to be paid by the grant. The entire $5,000 must be charged to the grant. If Professor X is released from a teaching assignment, the university can use salary savings funds to replace Professor X. Any remaining funds can be used by the university as determined by the Provost and Vice President for Finance. Funds from grants budgets cannot be used to pay the cost of instruction since this is not a research activity.

2. Compensation Above the Base Salary: The contract between the American Federation of Teachers and the State of New Jersey states (in Article XX) that an employee can receive up to thirty percent (30%) of his or her base salary or $18,000, whichever is greater for outside-funded activities, including grants. This compensation applies to funds applied to the contractual period of employment (i.e. 10-month contract).

Although the AFT contract provides for compensation over base salary, federal sponsors may not permit salary to be charged in this way. For example, according to National Science Foundation policy, compensation within the term of a faculty member's appointment must be within the faculty member's "regular organizational salary." In addition, the policy states that, "Grant funds may not be used to augment the total salary or rate of salary of faculty members during the period covered by the term of faculty appointment." Requests for "overload" compensation may only be allowed if they are explicitly permitted by the program solicitation and are approved by NSF.

If faculty/staff wish to receive compensation from grant funds during the academic year that exceeds their base salary, they must indicate this in their proposal and receive permission from the sponsor to do so. The university has the option to grant an alternate assignment within load in lieu of additional compensation.

3. Summer Salary: In some cases, researchers may request that salary for work performed on a grant be paid in the summer. This should be stated in the proposal and the sponsor must agree to this arrangement. OMB-A-21 states that, "Charges for work performed by faculty members on sponsored agreements during the summer months or other period not included in the base salary period will be determined for each faculty member at a rate not in excess of the base salary divided by the period to which the base salary relates, and will be limited to charges made in accordance with other parts of this section. The base salary period used in computing charges for work performed during the summer months will be the number of months covered by the faculty member's official academic year appointment." Since most faculty at Rowan are on a ten-month contract, summer compensation would generally be limited to no more than two-tenths of their base salary. Faculty cannot exceed this amount even if they have multiple grants.

Example 1: Professor X proposed and was approved to receive salary compensation for two months in the summer. Her base salary is $100,000. She proposed to devote 50% of her effort in the summer on this grant. Therefore, she can receive $10,000 (50% of $20,000) in the summer.

Example 2: Professor Y has two grants that pay him summer salary. His base salary is $100,000. He has proposed to devote 25% of his effort on Grant A and 50% of his effort on Grant B. He can receive up to $5,000 from Grant A and up to $10,000 from Grant B, for a total of $15,000.

4. Student Compensation: Students who receive compensation for work on sponsored projects should be compensated at the prevailing university rates. Fringe benefit rates should not be included in determining the salary paid to students working on grant-funded projects.
Eric,
Book budgets are frozen through the end of this fiscal year. If there are a few titles you need for classes or research we will be happy to obtain them for you but large orders are being held by acquisitions for processing in the new fiscal year.

We are also awaiting the passage of two bills, one assembly and one senate, that the governor has promised to sign when the combined version gets to his desk. This will give us the assurance we need to proceed with a radical review of our databases. There are opportunities to minimize title redundancy and save some money. We will also be looking at alternative ways to improve the delivery of services while reducing outlay of funds. For example, E-ZBorrow allows for the delivery of book titles from over 60 libraries, including five ARL libraries in just three of four days. A new service, in place as of this week, call RAPID will dramatically reduce the delivery time of articles requested through ILL.

Ultimately, with the budget situation in the State of New Jersey, we will have to be looking at ways to reduce costs. At the moment collaboration through our various consortia seems to offer the best opportunity to reduce costs and stretch the funds we do have. Not the best answer but an honest one.

Regards,
Bruce

Report
AD Hoc Committee on 40th Anniversary Celebration for University Senate
February 25, 2008

The committee has communicated by email and met once. The committee consists of Bruce Caswell (Political Science,) Cindy Vitto (English,) Edward Streb (Communications Studies,) Karen Siefring (Business,) Julie Mallory-Church (Counseling Center,) Frances Johnson (Faculty Center,) and Nicholas Schmelz (Education – Student Service Center). The committee actively seeks other volunteers.

The committee agreed upon a program focusing on shared governance at all levels of the system. Towards this end, the committee decided to invite the Executive Director of the Commission on Higher Education, Jane Oates, as a keynote speaker; the presidents of all the state college senates to participate in a roundtable, and a recognition of service of Rowan senators. Part of the program would be a luncheon. It was also agreed that there would be a written report coming out of the meeting on the role of the senates at the state colleges.

The tentative date was set at May 20, 2008, in the Ballroom, from 11 AM- 2PM. (This is the same day as the committee membership assignment meeting. The Ballroom has been reserved. Invitations have gone out to the keynote speaker and the state college senate presidents. University administration --- president, vice president, and deans – have also been invited.)
PROGRESS REPORT
AD HOC UNIVERSITY SENATE TASK FORCE ON SCI
02/25/2008

The committee membership consists of Bruce Caswell (Political Science,) Natalie Reaves (Economics,) and Yvonne Rodriguez (Teacher Education.) The committee actively solicits other volunteers.

The committee has met twice and communicated through email. Each member read the committee charge from Eric Milou as well as the full SCI Report. The report is massive and uneven. The committee has decided to prepare an annotated list, with page numbers for easy reference, that accomplishes the following:

1. Identifies and explains the specific references to Rowan University.
2. Identifies and explains references to practices that may involve Rowan University but not by name.
3. Identifies any additional information required of the University or the SCI in order to do the work of this committee effectively.

With regard to this question, the committee has requested information on lobbying fees paid by the university. The committee has also asked whether anyone at the university is assigned to coordinate follow-up

4. Determines if there are any changes in Rowan practices or policies that are indicated in the report.

Having completed this inventory, the committee will:

5. Follow-up with the university administration to determine what steps they are taking to respond to the report.
6. Make recommendations to the University Senate on a possible resolution on the SCI report and individual recommendations.
7. Determine if the governor or state legislature has plans to follow up on the SCI report.

8. Since the SCI Report raises many questions about the appropriateness and supervision of university revenue enhancement activities not directly related to the original public mission of the institution, the committee will consider whether to request additional information on CPCE, West Campus development, and other university activities geared primarily to revenue generation rather than traditional academic activities.

The committee plans to have a report for the University Senate by early May.
Whereas: The state of New Jersey has signed the Automatic Statewide Transfer Agreement into law, effective the fall 2008 semester.

Whereas: The Transfer Agreement stipulates that a transfer student with an Associate’s Degree from a New Jersey community college is considered to have fulfilled “all lower division general education requirements” towards a Bachelor’s degree at any state university.

Whereas: A Multicultural/Global course, a Writing Intensive course, an Artistic and Creative Experience course, and a Literature Intensive course are vital components of the Rowan undergraduate experience, and the Transfer Agreement contains no specific requirement that such courses be taken within an Associate’s Degree.

Whereas: The Transfer Agreement specifically requires a Public Speaking course for A.A. degrees, but not for A.S. degrees.

Therefore Be It Resolved:
The ACE, M/G, WI, LIT, RS and Public Speaking requirements will be termed “The Rowan Experience Requirements.”

The new name will reflect the fact that these all-university requirements are essential components of Rowan’s unique program, and will clarify the status of these requirements under the new law, ensuring that transfer students will understand that they need to fulfill these requirements, whether they hold Associate’s degrees or not.

Be It Further Resolved:
- All students will be required to earn a combined total of 42 credits of General Education and Rowan Experience courses, in addition to meeting the minimum number of required credits in each individual course bank.
- The requirement that the Writing Intensive course MUST be taken at Rowan will remain.
- The current practice of requiring Rowan Seminar only for freshmen will remain.
- The list of courses that carry the ACE, M/G, WI, RS, and LIT designations, and the process of adding these designations to new courses, will be unchanged.
- The two courses that fulfill the Public Speaking requirement (Public Speaking and Sophomore Engineering Clinic II) will be unchanged.
Resolution Clarifying the Status of Required General Education Courses under the Comprehensive Statewide Transfer Agreement

BACKGROUND: New Jersey has signed the Comprehensive Statewide Transfer Agreement into law effective September of 2008. The Transfer Agreement stipulates that a transfer student with an Associate’s Degree from a New Jersey Community College is considered to have satisfied “all lower-division general education requirements” towards a Bachelor’s Degree at a New Jersey state university.

This presents a source of potential confusion for programs that require SPECIFIC General Education courses.

For example, the catalog description of the requirements for the B.S. in Physics currently reads in part:

General Education

A. Communications
   - College Composition I
   - College Composition II
   - Public Speaking

B. Science and Math
   - Intro to Scientific Programming or Computer Science and Programming
   - Calculus I
   - Chemistry I
   - Chemistry II

A person familiar with the Transfer Agreement might infer that because the requirements of Calculus I, Chemistry I, Chemistry II etc. are listed as “General Education,” they would be waived for a transfer student holding an Associate’s Degree.

The position of the Provost’s Task Force on the Statewide Transfer Agreement is that because a transfer student with an Associate’s Degree is by law considered to have fulfilled “all lower-division general education requirements,” he/she is considered to have met the University-wide requirements of 7 credits of Math/Sci/C.S., 6 credits of History/Humanities/Language, 6 credits of composition, etc. However, such a student should NOT be exempted from taking specific courses that are required for degree. In the above example, a transfer student with an Associate’s Degree is considered to have met the University-wide requirement of 7 credits of Math/Sci/C.S., but must still meet the requirements of the B.S. in Physics by taking Calculus I, Chemistry I, Chemistry II and one of the listed programming courses, unless equivalent courses were taken at the Community College.

It is also noted that the Transfer Agreement specifically states “It is the responsibility of the senior institutions to make sure that their specific graduation requirements are clearly announced in catalogs and other relevant materials.”

THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED that all Degree programs are encouraged to revise their catalog descriptions as follows:

- ALL required courses, including major requirements and general education courses specifically required for graduation, are listed under a single heading, “Required courses.”
- NO reference is made to “General Education Requirements” except a statement to the effect that “In addition to fulfilling the program requirements, all students are required to fulfill the university-wide General Education Requirements and Rowan Experience Requirements.”

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED
The revisions described above are NOT considered Curriculum Changes and do not need to pass through the Senate Curriculum Process.
Background/Context:

All Rowan students register for courses using the Banner system.

Resolution:

Whereas: the banner system provides the course number, place, days taught, the professor teaching the course (when known) and enrollment and

Whereas: no course description is available in the course registration process.

Be it resolved that: the University Senate recommends that course descriptions printed in the Course Catalog be made available via Banner Self Service for each course offered during the registration process. Course descriptions should be available as a “one click” link.
