More About Melissa

Melissa is originally from Delaware County, Pennsylvania. She holds a B.A. in Education Studies from The Catholic University of America in Washington, D.C., and an M.A. in Museum Education from Johns Hopkins University.

Driven by a passion for education and a commitment to fostering curiosity through innovative programming, Melissa has dedicated her career to creating meaningful learning experiences. She is currently pursuing an Ed.D. at Rowan University, where her work is deeply influenced by her experiences as a first-generation college student and her belief in the transformative power of education at all stages of life.

Melissa currently serves as the Outreach Specialist in the College of Science and Mathematics at Rowan University. Her career at Rowan began when she met her now-husband, a Franklinville native and moved to the area. Outside of work, Melissa enjoys spending time with her three-year-old son and their two dogs. She is also an active volunteer with Project NICU and Gift of Life Donor Program—two organizations that hold a special place in her heart.
