More About Kim

Kim Wampler serves as the Administrative Assistant for the Division of Student Access and Pathway Programs. She holds a BA in Psychology from Shippensburg University and an MA in Positive Developmental Psychology and Evaluation from Claremont Graduate University. With over a decade of experience in higher education, Kim has contributed to a variety of institutional areas, including diversity and inclusion, public safety, and academic affairs.

Her leadership and advocacy work spans numerous committees and initiatives, including the Queer and Trans Advocacy Committee (QTAC), Take Back the Night Planning Committee, and the COVID Reimplementation Committee. She has also served as a departmental representative for the Bias Education and Response Team (BERT) and held multiple roles within the Title IX process as an investigator, panelist, and decision-maker. She joined the Women's Alliance Network Advisory Board serving on the membership committee in 2025.

Kim is deeply committed to strengths-based approaches and fostering environments where all individuals feel a sense of belonging. Outside of work, she enjoys reading, playing Brotato, and spending as much time outdoors as she can.
